IHH HEALTHCARE MALAYSIA LAUNCHES SPECIAL MENU FOR PATIENTS CURATED EXCLUSIVELY BY CHEF DATO' FAZLEY YAAKOB

New dishes at Gleneagles Hospitals, Pantai Hospitals and Prince Court Medical Centre designed to further aid patients' wellbeing and recovery, and boost their overall hospital experience

Kuala Lumpur, October 4 – IHH Healthcare Malaysia has collaborated with Chef Dato' Fazley Yaakob to launch a new menu at its network of 16 hospitals comprising Gleneagles Hospitals, Pantai Hospitals and Prince Court Medical Centre.

Centered around comfort and nutritious food, the new menu features dishes which have been curated exclusively by celebrity and restaurateur Chef Dato Fazley Yaakob, including signature items such as nasi dulang, smoked chicken papeterie encased with tricolour tomato soup and basil leaves, smoked garlic croissant and smoked chicken turmeric cream éclair sandwich.

Other Malaysian favourites have also been introduced to the hospitals' menu such as Chicken Lemak Cili Api Pasta, Pan Mee Noodles with Meat Egg Rolls, Soup a la Doraisamy with Roti Bakar and Salted Butter, Laksa Negeri Sembilan and Tuaran Noodles

Jean-François Naa, Chief Executive Officer of IHH Healthcare Malaysia, said, "The move to introduce this exciting new menu is to provide an extra touch of comfort to our patients while enhancing their overall hospital experience. Good food does not only assist in the recovery process – it also uplifts one's spirits and helps with their mental and emotional wellbeing."

"We also want to challenge the perception of 'hospital food' by offering a selection of meals that are flavoursome yet full of nutrients. Patients can look forward to a new menu that has been carefully crafted based on their feedback while fulfilling their dietary requirements."

As part of IHH Healthcare's aspiration to Care. For Good., IHH Healthcare Malaysia has ensured that almost all of the ingredients used in the preparation of their dining options are sourced locally, to ensure that the items remain at their optimum level of freshness while reducing the organisation's carbon footprint.

Chef Dato' Fazley said, "The dishes are inspired by meals that Malaysians used to enjoy back in the day. I wanted to ensure that patients across IHH Healthcare Malaysia hospitals would feel an element of 'home' in their food but with a touch of modernity."

"The dishes are low in calories, sugar, salt and even oil. Certain fresh ingredients have been purposefully selected for its high amounts of antioxidants. All of these are factored to ensure that patients recover as well and as quickly as they can."

The new dishes will be prepared by in-house chefs across all 16 IHH Healthcare Malaysia hospitals, who have been trained by Chef Dato' Fazley. Each hospital brand will feature a different menu for their patients.
